INTRODUCTION

1. By the end of December 2002, 86 UNHCR country offices had reported refugee statistics covering the period January to September 2002. The statistics presented here should be considered as provisional, subject to change. Industrialized countries are not included in this survey, but are covered in the monthly asylum reports, available from the UNHCR website (www.unhcr.org).

MAIN CONCLUSIONS

2. From 1 January to 30 September 2002, the refugee population in the 86 asylum countries covered by this report fell by 19 per cent, from 10,614,000 as at 1 January 2002 to 8,560,000 as at 30 September. The refugee population directly assisted by or through UNHCR decreased with 9 per cent during the same period. The main cause for this significant decline in the number of refugees is the return of some 1.7 million Afghan refugees from Pakistan.
3. Although the fall in the refugee population in Pakistan is the most significant (-50%), a decline in the number of refugees was also reported by other asylum countries. When Pakistan is excluded, the 85 remaining asylum countries experienced a fall of 6 per cent in the refugee population, whereas the number of those directly assisted by UNHCR dropped with 7 per cent. Other sizeable asylum countries reporting a significant decrease in the refugee population included the Islamic Republic of Iran (-13%), Federal Republic of Yugoslavia (-11%), Zambia (-14%) and Ethiopia (-14%).
4. Egypt is the only one country hosting more than 50,000 refugees reporting an increase in the refugee population of more than 10 per cent. However, the increase was not due to new arrivals, but resulting from the inclusion of Palestinian refugees in its 2002 statistics (+70,000).
5. During the first nine months of 2002, the 86 asylum countries reported 163,000 new refugee arrivals. The main refugee influxes were reported by Pakistan (42,000), Guinea (29,000), United Republic of Tanzania (23,000), Kenya (15,000) and Uganda (12,000).
6. Four of the 86 asylum countries reported other increases numbering more than 10,000 refugees. These countries were Egypt (71,000, see above), United Republic of Tanzania (21,000), Democratic Republic of Congo (DR Congo) (16,000) and Liberia (12,000). The increase in DR Congo is the result of refugee births and a verification of Angolan refugees.
7. Ten voluntary repatriation movements exceeding 10,000 refugees were reported by the 86 asylum countries during the first nine months of 2002. These included the repatriation of Afghan refugees from Pakistan (1.7 million) and from the Islamic Republic of Iran (327,000), Angolan refugees returning from Zambia (30,000) and from DR Congo (15,000) and Sierra Leonean refugees repatriating from Guinea (24,000) and Liberia (19,000). Other significant repatriation movements concerned the return of Bosnian (21,000) and Croatian (14,000) refugees from the Federal Republic of Yugoslavia, the return of 26,000 Burundi refugees from the United Republic of Tanzania as well as 25,000 Somali refugees who repatriated from Ethiopia.

8. Out of the 86 asylum countries included in this report, 53 reported resettlement departures under UNHCR auspices. In 19 asylum countries, UNHCR Offices resettled more than 100 refugees during the period under review, five of which (Turkey, Kenya, Pakistan, Croatia and Egypt) facilitated more than 1,000 departures each.
9. The ten main resettlement movements taking place from the 86 asylum countries covered by this report are listed below.
