40 years of the Cartagena Process

The 1984 Cartagena Declaration on Refugees is a milestone in the generous tradition of solidarity and cooperation in the Americas towards asylum and refugee protection.

The Declaration established an innovative and flexible framework to respond comprehensively to regional legal and humanitarian problems regarding international protection.

It recommended the adoption of an expanded definition of a refugee, extending protection to people forced to flee in situations other than those covered by the 1951 Convention relating to the Status of Refugees.

From there, the Cartagena Process has been a continuous and evolutionary effort by Latin America and the Caribbean to strengthen the international system for protection of refugees, forcibly displaced persons, and stateless persons. Through its declarations and action plans, this process has demonstrated the commitment of countries in the region to address legal and humanitarian challenges related to protection and the search for durable solutions.

Denmark's Public Private Alliance for Inclusive Refugee Response

H.E. Mr. Ib Petersen

Ambassador, Permanent Mission of Denmark to the United Nations Office at Geneva

Public Private Alliance for Inclusive Refugee Response

What?

- Alliance between: Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Denmark, LEGO Foundation, Nordisk Foundation and Grundfos Foundation.
- Aims to achieve transformative and long-term impact in displacement settings.

Why?

- To test new grounds and move away from silo approaches.
- Jointly we can do more.
- Utilize the comparative advantage that sits within the public and private sector, philanthropic foundations, bilateral and multilateral partners in an aligned, strategic, and holistic way.

Public Private Alliance for Inclusive Refugee Response

How?

- Joint GRF pledge: Respond to the protracted forced displacement situation in Kenya, and specifically in Turkana County
- Focus: Strengthening integration of services for host communities and refugees within the programmatic areas of health, education, water and self-reliance in line with Kenya's Shirika Plan.
- Programme launched in Kenya last month.
- Budget of 500 million DKK for the period 2023-2026. MFA providing 200 million DKK.

Next steps:

- Hope this is a model to replicate.
- Already expanding engagement with alliance partners.
